Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

The search results discuss the relationship between Turkey, Israel, and Syria. One article from en.majalla.com mentions meetings between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in September 2023

, a meeting between Turkish President Tayyip Erdogan and Syria's Foreign Minister Asaad al-Shaibani on January 15, 2025

, Israeli strikes on July 16, 2025

, a meeting between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Syria's interim president Ahmed al-Sharaa on 4 February 2025

, and a Druze delegation from Syria in Israel on March 14, 2025

Another article from www.timesofisrael.com reports on talks between Israel and Turkey regarding Syria in February 2025, including a meeting between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Syria's interim President Ahmed al-Sharaa on February 4, 2025, and a meeting between Israeli and Turkish delegations hosted by Azerbaijan

. The article also mentions that the US President Donald Trump offered to mediate between Israel and Turkey. An article from www.aljazeera.com reports on a meeting between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Syria's newly appointed President Ahmed al-Sharaa in Ankara on February 4, 2025

Elaboration

The evidence does not contain information about Turkey's President urging the U.S. to control Israel in March 2025. The evidence mentions meetings between Turkish and Syrian officials in January and February 2025, and talks between Israel and Turkey regarding Syria in February 2025. It also mentions a Druze delegation from Syria in Israel on March 14, 2025. The evidence also mentions that the US President Donald Trump offered to mediate between Israel and Turkey.

Therefore, the claim cannot be verified with the provided evidence.

Evidence

Evidence from web_search

The search results discuss the relationship between Turkey, Israel, Syria, and the U.S. One article from my.rusi.org mentions technical talks held in Azerbaijan to develop a deconfliction mechanism in Syria after Israeli airstrikes in March 2025. Another article from jinsa.org states that on March 30, 2025, Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan called for Israel to be "destroyed and devastated." It also mentions that on April 10, 2025, Turkey's Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan said "we will not sit and watch" Israel's "expansionist" actions in Syria. An article from madamasr.com mentions meetings between Turkish and Syrian officials, and talks between Turkey and Israel, and that the US President Donald Trump offered to mediate between Israel and Turkey.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that in March 2025, there were Israeli airstrikes in Syria, and Turkey held technical talks with Israel in Azerbaijan to develop a deconfliction mechanism. On March 30, 2025, the Turkish President called for Israel to be "destroyed and devastated." The evidence does not explicitly state that Turkey's President urged the U.S. to control Israel in March 2025.

Therefore, the claim cannot be verified with the provided evidence.

Evidence

Evidence from web_search

The Times of Israel (<https://www.timesofisrael.com/turkey-and-syria-accuse-israel-of-fostering-chaos-in-syria/>) reports that in August 2025, Turkey's Foreign Minister and Syria's Foreign Minister warned Israel not to destabilize Syria, mentioning Israeli airstrikes in July 2025

The article also mentions talks between Turkey and Israel on creating a deconfliction mechanism in Syria in April 2025. PBS News (<https://www.pbs.org/newshour/world/syria-asks-turkey-for-defense-support-after-weeks-of-sectarian-violence>) discusses Syria's request for defense support from Turkey due to sectarian violence and Israeli intervention

. The article mentions that the U.S. envoy to Syria announced a U.S.-brokered ceasefire between Israel and Syria on July 19.

Elaboration

The evidence does not support the claim. While the search results reveal discussions about the relationship between Turkey, Israel, Syria, and the U.S., including meetings, airstrikes, and calls for deconfliction, there is no mention of Turkey's President urging the U.S. to control Israel in March 2025.

Final Judgement

The search results show that there were discussions and actions related to the relationship between Turkey, Israel, Syria, and the U.S. in 2025. However, the evidence does not contain information about Turkey's President urging the U.S. to control Israel in March 2025. Therefore, the claim cannot be verified. `false`

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The evidence from multiple sources, including en.majalla.com, www.timesofisrael.com, and www.aljazeera.com, reveals discussions and actions related to the relationship between Turkey, Israel, Syria, and the U.S. in 2025, including meetings, airstrikes, and calls for deconfliction. However, none of the provided evidence supports the claim that Turkey's President urged the U.S. to control Israel in March 2025.
