From Source: Content: StopFake.org states that Jamie White was not on any "list of enemies of Ukraine" and that there is no evidence to support the claim. White's sister and law enforcement officials believe his death was unrelated to his journalistic activities. The article includes an image of a screenshot of a tweet by Jamie White, claiming he was on a Ukrainian

"Enemies List"

The article also mentions that White spread disinformation and anti-Ukrainian conspiracy theories.

Elaboration

The claim that Jamie White was on a Ukrainian enemies hit list is disputed. While Alex Jones and the "Investigate Earth Conspiracy Podcast" suggest this, StopFake.org states that there is no evidence to support the claim. Furthermore, White's sister and law enforcement officials believe his death was unrelated to his journalistic activities.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that Jamie White was shot dead in Austin, Texas, on March 10, 2025. However, the claim that he was on a Ukrainian hit list is not supported by evidence. While some sources, like Alex Jones, suggest this, there is no independent verification. StopFake.org explicitly denies this claim.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim that Jamie White was on a Ukrainian hit list is false. While White was shot dead in Austin, Texas, on March 10, 2025, there is no evidence to support the claim that he was on a Ukrainian hit list. Sources like Alex Jones suggest this, but this is disputed by StopFake.org, and law enforcement officials believe his death was unrelated to his journalistic activities.
