Evidence from image_search

Al Jazeera published an article on July 6, 2024, about the French parliamentary elections, including an image of a protest (

). Bloomberg published an article on June 10, 2024, about French far-right parties, including an image of Marine Le Pen (

Reuters published an article on July 8, 2024, about the shift to the left in France, including an image of a protest (

Evidence from reverse_search

The image (

) appears in a Vanity Fair article from July 2015, discussing rising antisemitism in France and a pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris on July 26, 2014, where a swastika was painted on a statue. The same image (

) is also found in a World Jewish Congress article from June 2017, about a German TV documentary on European anti-Semitism.

Additionally, The Jerusalem Post published an article by Adam Milstein on July 27, 2023, discussing antisemitism in Europe, which includes the image (image:k) and describes the event as a protest in support of Palestinians on July 26, 2014.

Elaboration

The image is from a pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris on July 26, 2014, not a protest against Le Pen's victory in 2024. The image was used in articles discussing antisemitism. The claim is therefore false.

Final Judgement

The image is from a 2014 pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris, not a 2024 protest against Le Pen's victory. The image has been misrepresented by the claim.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image in the claim is from a pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris on July 26, 2014, as evidenced by a Vanity Fair article from July 2015 and a Jerusalem Post article from July 2023, not a protest against Le Pen's victory in the 2024 French parliamentary elections.
