The search results discuss an attempted assassination of Donald Trump in Pennsylvania on July 13, 2024, by Thomas Matthew Crooks, as reported by Wikipedia (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Attempted_assassination_of_Donald_Trump_in_Pennsylvania) image.i. NPR reports on a Justice Department announcement of an Iranian murder-for-hire plot to kill Donald Trump, allegedly orchestrated by an Iranian government official, Farhad Shakeri (<https://www.npr.org/2024/11/08/nx-s1-5184549/iran-donald-trump-murder-for-hire-plot-justice-department>)

The BBC News (<https://www.bbc.com/news/articles/cx28x187rmko>) reports that the US government charged an Afghan national in connection with the alleged Iranian plot to assassinate Donald Trump

. The indictment also alleges that the Iranian government sought to kill two Jewish American businesspeople in New York City and plan a mass shooting targeting Israeli tourists in Sri Lanka.

Evidence from web_search

The search results discuss the economic impact of a potential Israel-Iran war. One article from TRT World (<https://trt.global/world/article/334e2e1ae7a3>) mentions a 12-day war in June 2025, with Israel spending approximately $5 billion in the first week. It also includes an image of a damaged building in Beersheba, Israel

Reuters (<https://www.reuters.com/markets/europe/israel-iran-conflict-highlights-dollars-tarnished-safe-haven-appeal-2025-06-16/>) discusses the impact on the U.S. dollar. Wikipedia discusses the economic impact of the Iran–Israel war, including military spending, sanctions, and currency devaluation.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that an Iranian government official orchestrated a plot to assassinate Donald Trump. The plot involved an Afghan national. The evidence does not support the claim that the plot was orchestrated by two Jewish Americans.

The evidence does not explicitly state that Israel wants American money to fund a war with Iran or American servicemen to fight it. However, the evidence does mention the economic impact of an Israel-Iran war, including military spending.

The claim is partially inaccurate.

Final Judgement

The claim is partially inaccurate. While there was an assassination plot against Donald Trump, it was orchestrated by an Iranian government official, not two Jewish Americans. The evidence does not directly support the claim about Israel's intentions regarding a war with Iran. false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is partially inaccurate. While there was an attempted assassination of Donald Trump, the plot was orchestrated by an Iranian government official, not Jewish Americans, as reported by NPR (<https://www.npr.org/2024/11/08/nx-s1-5184549/iran-donald-trump-murder-for-hire-plot-justice-department>). The evidence does not support the assertion that Israel wants American money and servicemen for a war with Iran, although the economic impact of such a war is discussed in sources like TRT World (<https://trt.global/world/article/334e2e1ae7a3>).
