Another source, from Magzter (https://www.magzter.com/GB/Reach-Publishing-Services-Limited/Hull-Daily-Mail/News/2023954?srsltid=AfmBOoqTSROYXfWSCNnJzNlPL-FwMP5Yq_k0ESWpru9Vq4oC3aQXhx2), also shows the Hull Daily Mail from March 13, 2025.

Evidence from image_search

From Source: Content: The search result is a Hull Daily Mail front page from February 18, 2025.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that the image of the Hull Daily Mail front page from March 13, 2025, is fabricated. The search results confirm the existence of the newspaper on that date, but the actual front page, as shown by Magzter, does not contain the text about Ukrainian soldiers. The mythdetector.com source explicitly labels the image as fabricated.

Final Judgement

The claim is demonstrably false. While the Hull Daily Mail did publish an edition on March 13, 2025, the front page shown in the image is fabricated. The actual front page, as shown by multiple sources, does not contain the text about Ukrainian soldiers. `false`

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is false. While the Hull Daily Mail did publish an edition on March 13, 2025, the front page image is fabricated. The actual front page, as shown by sources like Magzter, does not contain the text about Ukrainian soldiers. This is further supported by a fact-check from mythdetector.com (<https://mythdetector.com/en/british-hull-daily-mail/>), which labels the image as fabricated.
