Elaboration

The evidence indicates that JD Vance accused Volodymyr Zelenskyy of campaigning for Kamala Harris. NBC News reports that some Republicans viewed Zelenskyy's visit to a munitions factory in Pennsylvania as a signal of his preference in the upcoming election. ABC News reports on a meeting between Harris and Zelenskyy.

The evidence does not explicitly state that Zelenskyy campaigned for Harris. It does, however, suggest that his actions were interpreted by some as a form of support.

Insufficient information exists to definitively verify the claim.

From Source: Content: Le Monde reports on a joint speech between Kamala Harris and Volodymyr Zelenskyy at the White House on September 26, 2024, which signaled Zelenskyy's involvement in the US election campaign.

Harris reaffirmed political and military support for Ukraine.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that Zelenskyy's actions, such as his visit to a munitions factory in Pennsylvania and a joint speech with Kamala Harris, were perceived by some as involvement in the US election campaign. The joint speech at the White House on September 26, 2024, is explicitly mentioned as a signal of Zelenskyy's involvement. However, the evidence does not explicitly state that Zelenskyy campaigned for Harris.

Insufficient information exists to definitively verify the claim.

Final Judgement

The evidence suggests that Zelenskyy's actions, including a visit to a munitions factory in Pennsylvania and a joint speech with Kamala Harris, were interpreted by some as a form of support for Harris. However, the evidence does not explicitly confirm that Zelenskyy campaigned for Harris. Therefore, the claim is not definitively proven.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is not definitively proven. While Volodymyr Zelenskyy visited a munitions factory in Pennsylvania and gave a joint speech with Kamala Harris, which some interpreted as involvement in the US election campaign, there is no explicit evidence that he campaigned for her.
