The 2025 London Summit on Ukraine, officially named the Securing Our Future London Summit, was held on March 2, 2025, in London, hosted by British Prime Minister Keir Starmer. The summit aimed to create a "coalition of the willing" in Europe to present a peace plan for the Russian invasion of Ukraine. Participants included leaders from 16 states, the EU, and NATO. Key outcomes included a four-point plan and commitments from Starmer. The summit followed a meeting between Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and U.S. President Donald Trump.

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that a London Summit on Ukraine took place on March 2, 2025, and that the image in the claim depicts the participants of the summit. The image search results show multiple photos from the summit, including one that matches the claim's image. However, the evidence does not explicitly state that the leaders took off their suits to support Ukraine.

Therefore, while the image is authentic and related to the summit, the claim's description of the leaders taking off their suits is not directly supported by the provided evidence. Additional information would be needed to verify this specific detail.
