Military Times published an article on February 7, 2024, about a drone strike in Baghdad, which includes an image of a burning car (

Elaboration

The image search results show attacks on US facilities in Baghdad, but none of the images match the one in the claim. The search also found an image of a burning car in Baghdad.

Based on the evidence, the claim cannot be verified. There is no evidence to support the claim that the image shows a US facility under attack in Baghdad on September 30, 2024.

Final Judgement

The image search results show attacks on US facilities in Baghdad, but none of the images match the one in the claim. The search also found an image of a burning car in Baghdad. The reverse image search did not yield any results. The geolocation search provided a list of countries, none of which is Iraq.

Based on the evidence, the claim is not supported. There is no evidence to support the claim that the image shows a US facility under attack in Baghdad on September 30, 2024. false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is not supported by the evidence. While image searches revealed attacks on US facilities in Baghdad and a burning car, none of the images matched the one in the claim. Furthermore, a reverse image search yielded no results, and geolocation analysis did not identify Iraq as a likely location. Therefore, the claim that the image depicts a US facility under attack in Baghdad on September 30, 2024, is unsubstantiated.
