Evidence from `web_search`

The Council on Foreign Relations (<https://www.cfr.org/article/how-much-us-aid-going-ukraine>) states that Ukraine is the top recipient of U.S. aid since the Russian invasion in February 2022. NPR (<https://www.npr.org/2025/08/05/g-s1-81084/europe-us-weapons-ukraine-russia-war>) mentions that the U.S. has provided around $75 billion in military assistance to Ukraine since the full-scale invasion in 2022, and that President Trump announced a new arrangement to send weapons to Ukraine last month.

The CSIS (<https://www.csis.org/analysis/trump-administration-boosts-immediate-military-aid-deliveries-ukraine>) published an article on February 11, 2025, discussing the Trump administration's boost to military aid deliveries to Ukraine.

Another article published on July 25, 2025, mentions the administration's announcement of military aid for Ukraine. The Trump administration announced weapons sales to Ukraine totaling $652 million under the Foreign Military Sales (FMS) program, adding to the $310 million in FMS approved in May. The policy appears to keep in place the military aid committed under the Biden administration, which is set to deliver around $30 billion over the next three-and-a-half years.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that the U.S. has provided military aid to Ukraine. However, the provided sources do not support the claim that the U.S. had given $350 billion in military aid to Ukraine as of February 2025. One source mentions approximately $75 billion in military assistance since the full-scale invasion in 2022 (<https://www.npr.org/2025/08/05/g-s1-81084/europe-us-weapons-ukraine-russia-war>). Another source mentions the Trump administration's announcement of weapons sales totaling $652 million under the Foreign Military Sales (FMS) program, adding to the $310 million in FMS approved in May. The evidence also mentions that the Biden administration is set to deliver around $30 billion over the next three-and-a-half years.

The claim's specific amount of $350 billion is not supported by the evidence.

Therefore, the claim is not supported by the evidence.

Final Judgement

The evidence does not support the claim that the United States had given $350 billion in military aid to Ukraine as of February 2025. The provided sources mention different amounts, none of which match the claimed figure.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is false. While the U.S. has provided military aid to Ukraine, the evidence, including sources like NPR (<https://www.npr.org/2025/08/05/g-s1-81084/europe-us-weapons-ukraine-russia-war>), indicates a much lower figure than $350 billion.
