Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Gal Gadot's star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame was damaged. The Los Angeles Times published an article on March 18, 2025, about the star. The NDTV article shows an image of the damaged star.

The claim states the star was destroyed hours after being placed. The evidence does not explicitly state the star was destroyed hours after being placed.

Therefore, the claim is partially supported. The evidence confirms the star was damaged, but the timing of the damage is not confirmed.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that Gal Gadot's star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame was damaged. However, the claim states the star was destroyed hours after being placed, which is not explicitly confirmed by the evidence.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image shows Gal Gadot's star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame being damaged, as confirmed by an NDTV article and a Los Angeles Times article from March 18, 2025. However, the claim that the damage occurred hours after the star was placed is not explicitly supported by the evidence.
