Evidence from web_search

Jamie White, an Infowars writer, was shot in Austin, Texas. Alex Jones speculated that the killing "could've been a hit" orchestrated by Ukraine, while White's sister does not believe there is a larger conspiracy behind her brother's killing. The Latin Times reports that White was found dead in a parking lot in Austin, Texas, with gunshot wounds, and the police believe the suspects were possibly burglarizing White's vehicle. Alex Jones claimed that White was on a Ukrainian hit list, and White's social media accounts indicate that he believed he was on a Ukrainian hit list. The "Investigate Earth Conspiracy Podcast" discusses the murder of Jamie White in Austin, Texas, and mentions that White may have been on a Ukrainian NGO hit list.

Elaboration

The claim is partially supported by the evidence. The evidence confirms that Jamie White was shot dead in Austin, Texas, on March 10, 2025. However, the evidence also indicates that Alex Jones and the "Investigate Earth Conspiracy Podcast" have speculated that White was on a Ukrainian hit list. The evidence does not definitively confirm that White was on a Ukrainian hit list.

Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

The Yahoo News article reports on Alex Jones' announcement of Jamie White's murder. The StopFake.org article states that there is no evidence that White was on a Ukrainian "enemies list" and that his sister does not believe he was deliberately targeted. The article also mentions that White spread disinformation and anti-Ukrainian conspiracy theories.

Elaboration

The claim is not fully supported by the evidence. While the evidence confirms that Jamie White was shot dead in Austin, Texas, on March 10, 2025, there is no definitive evidence to support the claim that he was on a Ukrainian enemies hit list. Alex Jones and the "Investigate Earth Conspiracy Podcast" have speculated about this, and White himself believed he was on such a list. However, StopFake.org states that there is no evidence of this.
