Elaboration

The evidence confirms that a drone attack occurred on October 19, 2024, targeting Benjamin Netanyahu's residence in Caesarea, Israel (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/2024_drone_attack_on_Benjamin_Netanyahu%27s_residence, <https://www.timesofisrael.com/drones-moans-and-groans-hezbollah-attacks-pms-home-petty-politics-continue-unintercepted/>, <https://www.reuters.com/world/middle-east/drone-launched-netanyahu-home-northern-israel-spokesman-says-2024-10-19/>). However, the provided sources explicitly state that Netanyahu and his wife were not present during the attack and that there were no injuries.

The evidence does not mention Yair Netanyahu being killed in the attack. Therefore, the claim that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the drone attack is not supported by the provided evidence.

Final Judgement

The drone attack on October 19, 2024, did target Benjamin Netanyahu's residence, but reports indicate that Netanyahu and his wife were not present and there were no injuries. The claim that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the attack is not supported by the evidence.

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is false. While a drone attack did target Benjamin Netanyahu's residence on October 19, 2024, in Caesarea, Israel, multiple sources (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/2024_drone_attack_on_Benjamin_Netanyahu%27s_residence, <https://www.timesofisrael.com/drones-moans-and-groans-hezbollah-attacks-pms-home-petty-politics-continue-unintercepted/>, <https://www.reuters.com/world/middle-east/drone-launched-netanyahu-home-northern-israel-spokesman-says-2024-10-19/>) state that Netanyahu and his wife were not present and there were no injuries. The provided evidence does not support the assertion that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the attack.
