Evidence

Evidence from reverse_search

The image in the claim (

) appears in a Vanity Fair article discussing anti-Semitism in France, specifically a 2014 pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris where a swastika was painted on a statue. The article is available at <https://www.vanityfair.com/news/2015/07/anti-semitism-france-hostage-hyper-cacher-kosher-market>.

The same image ( ) is also found in an article on the World Jewish Congress website about a German TV documentary on European anti-Semitism, published on June 19, 2017, and in an article by Adam Milstein in The Jerusalem Post on July 27, 2023, discussing antisemitism in Europe.

Al Jazeera (<https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2024/7/6/france-braces-for-high-drama-run-offs-as-le-pens-far-right-eyes-power>) published an article on the French parliamentary elections in 2024, including a photograph of a protest

. Bloomberg (<https://www.bloomberg.com/news/articles/2024-06-10/french-far-right-parties-edge-toward-coalition-against-macron>) reports on the French far-right parties and their coalition against Macron, featuring an image of Marine Le Pen

Reuters (<https://www.reuters.com/world/europe/france-shifts-left-risk-policy-paralysis-looms-2024-07-08/>) also published an article about the French parliamentary elections in 2024, including an image of a protest

Elaboration

The image in the claim (

Final Judgement

The image in the claim is from a 2014 pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris, not a 2024 protest against Le Pen's victory. The image has been taken out of context and misrepresented.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image in the claim is from a 2014 pro-Palestinian demonstration in Paris, as evidenced by a Vanity Fair article (<https://www.vanityfair.com/news/2015/07/anti-semitism-france-hostage-hyper-cacher-kosher-market>). This contradicts the claim that it depicts a 2024 protest against Le Pen's victory.
