

Claim

Claim: "BlackRock has asked that Ukrainian soldiers not be buried on the land it owns in Ukraine."

Actions

web_search("BlackRock Ukraine land ownership soldiers burial")

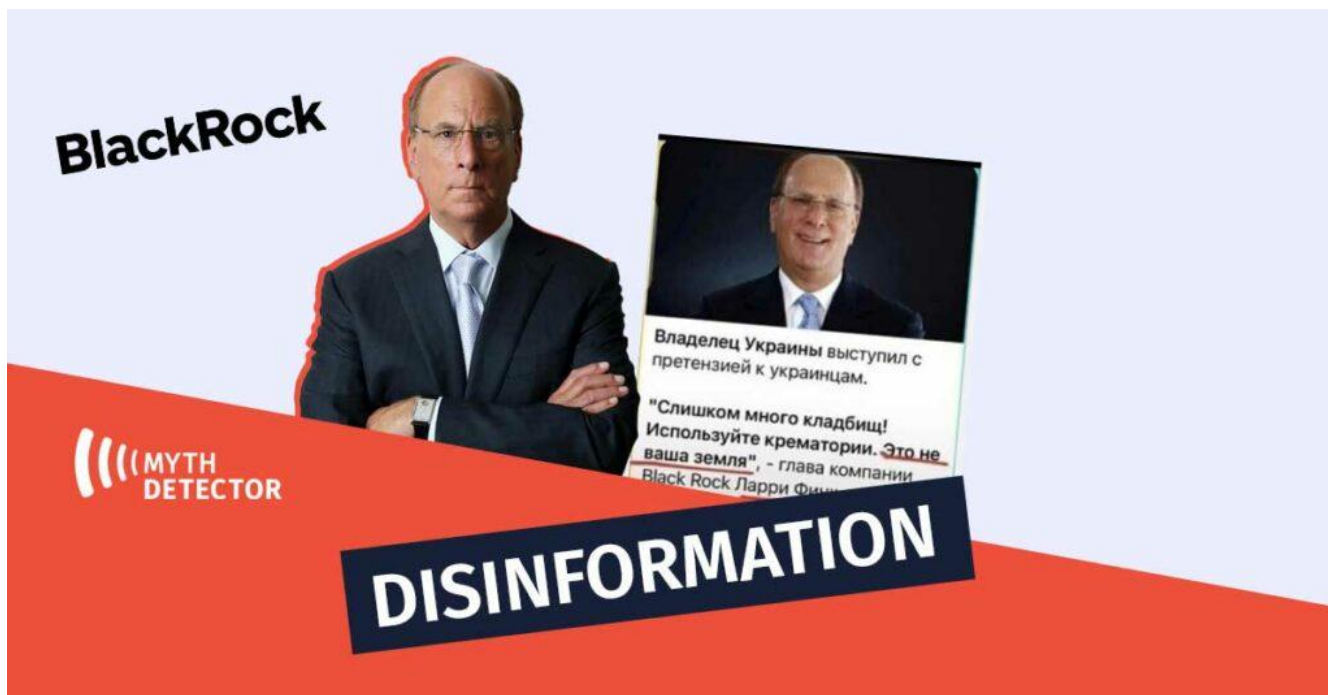

Evidence

Evidence from web_search

The Asia Fact Check Lab (<https://www.rfa.org/english/news/afcl/afcl-blackrock-ukraine-land-08262024030948.html>) and Detector Media (<https://disinfo.detector.media/en/post/blackrock-allegedly-owns-47-of-ukraines-territory-and-has-banned-ukraine-from-burying-its-military>) both state that the claim that BlackRock asked the Ukrainian government to stop burying deceased Ukrainian soldiers on land it owns is false. The claim originated from a Bulgarian politician and a satirical Telegram channel and is part of a Russian propaganda narrative.

Myth Detector (<https://mythdetector.com/en/ukrainian-lands-and-banned-the-burial-of-military-personnel/>) also fact-checks the claim and states that it is false. The press service of the President of Ukraine reported a meeting between Volodymyr Zelenskyy and BlackRock CEO Larry Fink to discuss recovery funds.

Elaboration

The claim is false. Multiple fact-checking sources, including The Asia Fact Check Lab (<https://www.rfa.org/english/news/afcl/afcl-blackrock-ukraine-land-08262024030948.html>), Detector Media (<https://disinfo.detector.media/en/post/blackrock-allegedly-owns-47-of-ukraines-territory-and-has-banned-ukraine-from-burying-its-military>), and Myth Detector (<https://mythdetector.com/en/ukrainian-lands-and-banned-the-burial-of-military-personnel/>), have debunked the claim. These sources indicate the claim originated from a Bulgarian politician and a satirical Telegram channel and is part of a Russian propaganda narrative.

Final Judgement

The provided evidence from multiple fact-checking sources confirms that the claim is false. These sources debunk the claim, indicating its origin in propaganda.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim that BlackRock has asked that Ukrainian soldiers not be buried on its land in Ukraine is false. Multiple fact-checking organizations, including The Asia Fact Check Lab (<https://www.rfa.org/english/news/afcl/afcl-blackrock-ukraine-land-08262024030948.html>), Detector Media (<https://disinfo.detector.media/en/post/blackrock-allegedly-owns-47-of-ukraines-territory-and-has-banned-ukraine-from-burying-its-military>), and Myth Detector (<https://mythdetector.com/en/ukrainian-lands-and-banned-the-burial-of-military-personnel/>), have debunked the claim, citing its origins in Russian propaganda.