The image

Evidence from web_search

The NPR article (<https://www.npr.org/2024/04/26/1247453317/gaza-baby-girl-mother-killed-israel-airstrike>) discusses a baby girl in Gaza who died after an Israeli airstrike, including images of the baby in an incubator

Elaboration

The reverse image search confirms the existence of the image. The web search reveals an NPR article about a baby girl in Gaza who died after an Israeli airstrike. However, the article does not contain the image in the claim.

The claim states that the image shows a Palestinian girl in the Gaza war in July 2024, holding her sister's oxygen mask inside the ambulance. The evidence does not confirm the details of the claim. More information is needed to verify the claim.

From Source: Content: The Human Rights Watch report discusses the impact of the Gaza war on children with disabilities, including the use of explosive weapons, the blockade on humanitarian aid, and the denial of access to medical care. The report mentions the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child's findings on the high number of children killed, injured, and displaced in Gaza. The report also includes a case study of a 14-year-old girl with cerebral palsy whose home was destroyed in an airstrike. The report was published on September 30, 2024.

Elaboration

The Human Rights Watch report (<https://www.hrw.org/report/2024/09/30/they-destroyed-what-was-inside-us/children-disabilities-amid-israels-attacks-gaza>) discusses the impact of the Gaza war on children, including the denial of access to medical care. However, the provided evidence does not contain the image in the claim. The claim cannot be verified.

Final Judgement

The image is available, and the search results confirm that children in Gaza have been affected by the war and have needed oxygen masks. However, the evidence does not confirm the specific details of the claim, such as the girl holding her sister's oxygen mask inside the ambulance.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image is available, and the search results confirm that children in Gaza have been affected by the war and have needed oxygen masks. However, the evidence does not confirm the specific details of the claim, such as the girl holding her sister's oxygen mask inside the ambulance. Therefore, the claim is unverified.
