In March 2025, NPR reported that President Trump paused military aid to Ukraine after a meeting with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy (

). The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) stated that Trump froze all military aid to Ukraine in early March 2025 and then lifted the freeze shortly after cease-fire talks in Saudi Arabia.

The Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) published an analysis on July 25, 2025, discussing the Trump administration's military aid deliveries to Ukraine, including weapons sales and the continuation of aid committed under the Biden administration (

Sources: CSIS, CFR, and NPR.

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Donald Trump paused military aid to Ukraine in March 2025. The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) states that Trump froze all military aid to Ukraine in early March 2025.

The claim is supported, as the evidence confirms that Trump suspended military aid to Ukraine in March 2025. The evidence also confirms that Lech Wałęsa wrote a letter to Trump in March 2025. However, the evidence does not explicitly state that Wałęsa's letter criticized Trump's decision to suspend the aid.

The claim is likely true, but it cannot be fully verified without additional information.
