Evidence

Evidence from web_search

The search results include articles discussing Keir Starmer's statements on the situation in Gaza. One article from map.org.uk, published on October 30, 2024, reports that Starmer stated that Israel is exterminating Palestinians in Gaza, but does not mention a boycott of diplomatic relations with Israel (

Another article from The Guardian, published on October 6, 2024, discusses Starmer's call for a ceasefire in Gaza and his urging for unity in Britain ( ). A BBC article from June 4, 2024, mentions pressure on Starmer to take stronger action against Israel, including considering sanctions (

Elaboration

The evidence does not support the claim. While Keir Starmer has made statements regarding the situation in Gaza, including calling for a ceasefire and criticizing Israel's actions, none of the provided articles mention a UK boycott of diplomatic relations with Israel. The evidence includes a statement from October 30, 2024, where Starmer stated that Israel is exterminating Palestinians in Gaza, but this does not confirm the claim.

The BBC article from June 4, 2024, mentions pressure on Starmer to take stronger action, including considering sanctions, but this is not the same as a boycott of diplomatic relations.

Therefore, based on the available evidence, the claim cannot be verified.

Final Judgement

The search results show that Keir Starmer has made statements about the situation in Gaza, including criticizing Israel's actions and calling for a ceasefire. However, none of the provided articles mention a UK boycott of diplomatic relations with Israel.

The claim is not supported by the evidence. There is no mention of a boycott of diplomatic relations with Israel in the provided articles. `false`

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is not supported by the evidence. While Keir Starmer has commented on the situation in Gaza, including calling for a ceasefire, there is no mention of a UK boycott of diplomatic relations with Israel in the provided articles from sources like map.org.uk and The Guardian.
