Elaboration

The claim is partially accurate. The evidence confirms that a man, Nikita Zhuravel, was sentenced in November 2024. However, the evidence indicates that the 14-year sentence was not solely for burning the Quran. It was for treason, with the Quran burning being a separate offense. The Reuters and Moscow Times articles state that the 14-year sentence was for treason, while the Quran burning resulted in a separate sentence.

Final Judgement

The claim is partially accurate. While a man was sentenced in November 2024, the 14-year sentence was for treason, not solely for burning the Quran. The Quran burning was a separate offense.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

In November 2024, Nikita Zhuravel was sentenced to 14 years in prison. However, this sentence was for treason, as reported by Reuters and The Moscow Times, not solely for burning the Quran, which was a separate offense.
