Roll Call published a chart of the wealth of members of Congress based on financial disclosures from 2016.

Top 20 Wealthiest Senators and Representatives

Reflecting a dynamic that is true among their constituents, much of Congress' wealth is held by a handful of individuals. Just a dozen current lawmakers own half the total positive net worth, based on a Roll Call analysis of each member's minimum net worth, calculated from financial disclosures for 2016.

Note: Includes members seated after Jan. 3, 2017, and liabilities fulfilled in 2016. Does not include Sen. Tina Smith, D-Minn., or nonvoting members of the House.

Elaboration

The evidence provides information about the wealth of several US politicians, including Joe Biden, Mitch McConnell, Nancy Pelosi, and others. However, the evidence does not mention any list released by Ukraine or any bribes taken by US politicians from Ukraine. Therefore, the claim that the image shows an authentic list released by Ukraine showing US politicians taking bribes from Ukraine cannot be verified with the provided evidence. The evidence does not contain any information about the image's authenticity or the source of the data presented in the image.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms the wealth of the politicians listed in the image but does not support the claim that the image is an authentic list released by Ukraine showing US politicians taking bribes. The evidence does not mention any bribes or the source of the image.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is false. While the provided evidence confirms the wealth of the politicians listed in the image, it does not support the assertion that the image is an authentic list released by Ukraine detailing bribes. The search results and image searches provide information on the net worth of the politicians, such as Joe Biden and Nancy Pelosi, but do not mention any bribes or the source of the image.
