Evidence

No new evidence found.

Elaboration

The claim that Jamie White was on a Ukrainian hit list after being shot dead in Austin, Texas, is not definitively verified by the evidence. While some sources, such as Alex Jones and the Latin Times, suggest this possibility, other sources, like StopFake.org, state there is no evidence to support it. The lack of an official investigation's findings on this matter further complicates the verification.

Final Judgement

The claim that Jamie White was on a Ukrainian hit list after being shot dead in Austin, Texas, is not definitively supported by the evidence. While some sources suggest this possibility, others deny it, and there is no official confirmation. The claim is based on speculation and conspiracy theories. `false`

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim that Jamie White was on a Ukrainian hit list is not definitively supported. While some sources, such as the Latin Times, mention this possibility, other sources, like StopFake.org, state there is no evidence to support it. Furthermore, White's sister does not believe in a larger conspiracy.
