Evidence

Evidence from reverse_search

The image of Benjamin Netanyahu in a hospital bed (

) has been identified in multiple sources. One source, a Forbes article from November 8, 2023, labels the image as fake and likely created using AI software, noting that Netanyahu was giving an interview on the same day the image went viral. The article can be found here: Source.

Other sources, including one from SabaNet (Source) and en.webangah.ir (Source), report that Netanyahu was diagnosed with prostate cancer and underwent surgery in December 2024.

Evidence from image_search

Politico reports that Benjamin Netanyahu was discharged from the hospital (<https://www.politico.com/news/2023/07/16/israel-netanyahu-discharged-hospital-00106491>). CNN reports that Benjamin Netanyahu was admitted to the hospital in July 2023 (<https://www.cnn.com/2023/07/15/middleeast/netanyahu-admitted-hospital-intl>). PBS reports that Benjamin Netanyahu was rushed to the hospital (<https://www.pbs.org/newshour/world/israeli-pm-netanyahu-rushed-to-hospital-his-office-says-he-is-in-good-condition>).

Elaboration

The image is likely fake, according to a Forbes article that identifies it as AI-generated. The article states that Netanyahu was giving an interview on the same day the image went viral.

Additional sources indicate that Netanyahu was diagnosed with prostate cancer and underwent surgery in December 2024. However, the image in the claim is not related to this event.

The image search results show that Netanyahu was hospitalized in July 2023, but this does not match the claim's timeframe of November 2024.

Final Judgement

The image is likely fake, as indicated by a Forbes article. The claim also mentions a hospitalization in November 2024, which does not align with the available information about

Netanyahu's hospitalizations. Therefore, the claim is demonstrably false. false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image in the claim is likely fake, as indicated by a Forbes article (Source). The claim also mentions a hospitalization in November 2024, which does not align with the available information about Netanyahu's hospitalizations, including reports of a hospitalization in July 2023.
