Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

On October 19, 2024, a drone attack targeted Benjamin Netanyahu's residence in Caesarea, Israel, as reported by Wikipedia, The Times of Israel, and NBC News. The attack was part of the conflict between Israel and Hezbollah. Netanyahu and his wife were not present, and there were no injuries.

Hezbollah claimed responsibility for the attack on October 22, 2024, according to Wikipedia. The Times of Israel article includes a tweet from Benjamin Netanyahu regarding the attack.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that a drone attack occurred on October 19, 2024, targeting Benjamin Netanyahu's residence in Caesarea, Israel. However, the provided sources (Wikipedia, The Times of Israel, and NBC News) state that Netanyahu and his wife were not present and that there were no injuries.

The claim that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the attack is not supported by the evidence. The provided sources do not mention Yair Netanyahu. Therefore, the claim is not supported by the evidence.

Final Judgement

The drone attack on October 19, 2024, targeted Benjamin Netanyahu's residence, but the evidence does not support the claim that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the attack. The provided sources state that Netanyahu and his wife were not present and there were no injuries.

The claim is demonstrably false because the evidence from multiple reliable sources contradicts the assertion that Yair Netanyahu was killed in the drone attack. false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is false. While a drone attack did target Benjamin Netanyahu's residence on October 19, 2024, as reported by Wikipedia, The Times of Israel, and NBC News, the sources state that Netanyahu and his wife were not present and there were no injuries. The evidence does not mention Yair Netanyahu, thus contradicting the claim that he was killed in the attack.
