Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Donald Trump and Benjamin Netanyahu spoke on August 14, 2024, and discussed the Gaza ceasefire. However, the evidence does not support the claim that Trump told Netanyahu to stop the deal because it would help Kamala Harris's campaign. In fact, one source told Axios that Trump's call was intended to encourage Netanyahu to take the deal. Newsweek reported that Trump and Netanyahu's office denied the allegations.

Therefore, the claim is not supported by the evidence.

Final Judgement

The available evidence indicates that Donald Trump and Benjamin Netanyahu spoke on August 14, 2024, and discussed the Gaza ceasefire. However, there is no evidence to support the specific claim that Trump told Netanyahu to stop the deal to hurt Kamala Harris's campaign. In fact, one source suggests Trump encouraged the deal, and both Trump and Netanyahu's offices denied the allegations.

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim that Donald Trump told Benjamin Netanyahu to stop a Gaza ceasefire deal to hurt Kamala Harris's campaign is not supported by the evidence. While a phone call between Trump and Netanyahu on August 14, 2024, did occur and involved discussions about the Gaza ceasefire, there is no evidence to support the specific claim. In fact, one source suggests Trump encouraged the deal, and both Trump and Netanyahu's offices denied the allegations, as reported by Newsweek.
