PBS News (Source) reported on Harris's meeting with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, where she criticized suggestions that Ukraine should cede territory for peace. The Brookings article (Source) discusses how Harris would handle the Russia-Ukraine war, mentioning her commitment to supporting Ukraine.

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Kamala Harris made a statement about Ukraine and Russia. The IMDb.com source (<https://www.imdb.com/name/nm3668431/quotes/>) provides a direct quote from her, which includes the sentences: "Ukraine is a country in Europe. Russia decided to invade a smaller country called Ukraine. It exists next to another country called Russia. Russia is a bigger country. Russia is a powerful country."

The evidence does not include the full quote provided in the claim, specifically the concluding sentence: "So basically that's wrong." Therefore, the veracity of the claim is partially confirmed.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that Kamala Harris made a statement about Ukraine and Russia, including the sentences: "Ukraine is a country in Europe. Russia decided to invade a smaller country called Ukraine. It exists next to another country called Russia. Russia is a bigger country. Russia is a powerful country." However, the evidence does not include the full quote provided in the claim, specifically the concluding sentence: "So basically that's wrong."

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

Kamala Harris did make a statement about Ukraine and Russia, as evidenced by a quote found on IMDb.com (<https://www.imdb.com/name/nm3668431/quotes/>). However, the provided evidence does not include the full quote from the claim, specifically the concluding sentence "So basically that's wrong."
