Evidence

Evidence from web_search

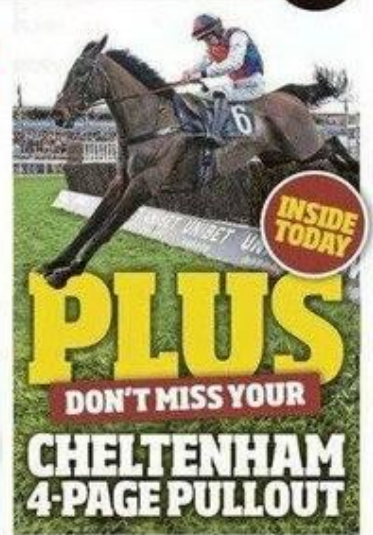

JetBlue Airways changed Israel's borders and labeled the area as "Palestinian Territories" on its in-flight map, which sparked outrage. The incident, which occurred in September 2024, was reported by The Jerusalem Post (<https://www.jpost.com/diaspora/article-818656>). JetBlue stated that the map app was provided by a third-party company and apologized, announcing a policy change.

Ynet News (<https://www.ynetnews.com/travel/article/bjgp0065hc>) also discussed the incident. View from the Wing (<https://viewfromthewing.com/jetblue-fires-seat-back-map-vendor-for-obliterating-israel/>) reported that JetBlue decided to switch to a new map vendor.
