

Claim

Claim: "While serving as US President in 2024, Joe Biden ordered the US forces to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea."

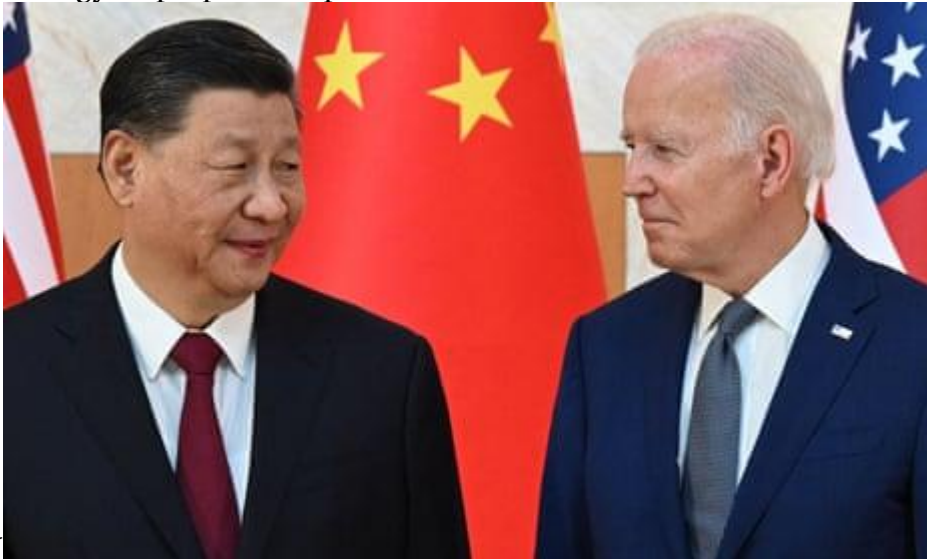

Actions

`web_search("Joe Biden US President nuclear confrontation Russia China N`

Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

According to an article published by The Guardian on August 20, 2024, Joe Biden approved a US nuclear strategy to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea (image:i). The White House stated that the plan was approved earlier in the year and was not a response to a single country or threat.

The Brookings Institution published an article discussing Biden's nuclear policy, mentioning his efforts to deter Russian nuclear escalation and stabilize relations with China. The Associated Press reported that President Joe Biden approved a new national security memorandum addressing growing cooperation among China, Iran, North Korea, and Russia (image:i).

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Joe Biden, while serving as US President, approved a US nuclear strategy to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea. The Guardian article from August 20, 2024, directly supports this. The Brookings Institution and the Associated Press articles further support this by discussing Biden's nuclear policy and his efforts to deter nuclear escalation.

Final Judgement

The evidence indicates that Joe Biden, as US President in 2024, approved a nuclear strategy that included preparing for potential confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea. This is supported by multiple sources, including The Guardian, The Brookings Institution, and the Associated Press.

true

Verdict: TRUE

Justification

In 2024, while serving as US President, Joe Biden approved a US nuclear strategy to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea, as reported by sources such as The Guardian.