Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

Redouane Messaoud Dris, an Algerian judoka, was disqualified from the Olympics after failing to weigh-in before his match against Israel's Tohar Butbul, according to the BBC (<https://www.bbc.com/sport/olympics/articles/cp68x1xp05eo>)

ESPN (https://www.espn.com/olympics/story/_/id/40680600/judo-org-probe-failed-weigh-match) and The Guardian (<https://www.theguardian.com/sport/article/2024/jul/29/algerian-judoka-investigated-after-failing-to-make-weight-for-bout-with-israeli>) image:i also reported on the incident, with the IJF investigating the situation.

The incident marked the third time an opponent has not faced Butbul in the past two Olympics.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that Redouane Messaoud Dris, an Algerian judoka, was disqualified from the Olympics after failing to weigh-in before his match against Israel's Tohar Butbul.

The BBC (<https://www.bbc.com/sport/olympics/articles/cp68x1xp05eo>), ESPN (https://www.espn.com/olympics/story/_/id/40680600/judo-org-probe-failed-weigh-match), and The Guardian (<https://www.theguardian.com/sport/article/2024/jul/29/algerian-judoka-investigated-after-failing-to-make-weight-for-bout-with-israeli>) all reported on the incident.

The evidence supports the claim that an Algerian judo athlete did not compete against an Israeli opponent. However, the reason for the withdrawal was a failure to weigh-in, not a direct withdrawal.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that an Algerian judoka, Redouane Messaoud Dris, did not compete against an Israeli opponent, Tohar Butbul, at the Olympics. However, the reason was a failure to weigh-in, not a direct withdrawal.

true

Verdict: TRUE

Justification

Redouane Messaoud Dris, an Algerian judoka, did not compete against Israel's Tohar Butbul at the Olympics because he failed to weigh-in, as reported by the BBC (<https://www.bbc.com/sport/olympics/articles/cp68x1xp05eo>), ESPN (https://www.espn.com/olympics/story/_/id/40680600/judo-org-probe-failed-weigh-match), and The Guardian (<https://www.theguardian.com/sport/article/2024/jul/29/algerian-judoka-investigated-after-failing-to-make-weight-for-bout-with-israeli>).
