Evidence

Evidence from web_search

The Wikipedia article on the 2019 Trump–Ukraine scandal (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/2019_Trump%E2%80%93Ukraine_scandal) does not mention the claim. Newsweek (<https://www.newsweek.com/what-behind-claim-joe-biden-laundered-billions-ukraine-aid-via-ftx-1759774>) discusses the claim that US aid to Ukraine was laundered and sent to Democrat candidates, stating that the claim originated from social media and that there is no evidence to support it

. The Associated Press (<https://apnews.com/article/fact-check-ftx-ukraine-democrats-laundering-996663874380>) also fact-checked the claim and found it to be false.

Elaboration

The evidence suggests the claim is false. Newsweek and the Associated Press both fact-checked the claim and found no evidence to support it. The claim appears to have originated on social media.

Final Judgement

The claim that half of US aid to Ukraine was laundered and sent back to Democrat candidates is demonstrably false. Multiple sources, including Newsweek and the Associated Press, have fact-checked this claim and found no evidence to support it.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim that US aid to Ukraine was laundered and sent to Democrat candidates is false. A search of the web revealed that the claim originated on social media and has been debunked by fact-checkers such as Newsweek and the Associated Press.
