Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

According to an article published on August 20, 2024, by The Guardian, Joe Biden approved a US nuclear strategy to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea (`image:0`). The White House said the plan was approved earlier this year and was not a response to a single country or threat.

Anadolu Agency published an article on August 21, 2024, stating that President Joe Biden approved a classified document in March directing US forces to prepare for potential "coordinated nuclear confrontations involving Russia, China and North Korea" (`image:0`). A Brookings article discusses Biden's nuclear policy and does not mention Biden ordering the US forces to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that Joe Biden, while serving as US President, approved a US nuclear strategy to prepare for possible nuclear confrontations with Russia, China, and North Korea. The Guardian reported this on August 20, 2024, and the Anadolu Agency reported on August 21, 2024, that Biden approved a classified document in March directing US forces to prepare for potential "coordinated nuclear confrontations" involving the mentioned countries.

Final Judgement

The claim is supported by evidence from multiple sources, including The Guardian and
