PBS News (Source) reports on Kamala Harris's meeting with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, where she criticized suggestions that Ukraine should cede territory for peace with Moscow. The Brookings article (Source) discusses how Harris would handle the Russia-Ukraine war, mentioning her commitment to supporting Ukraine.

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Kamala Harris made a statement about Ukraine and Russia. The IMDb.com source (Source) provides a quote attributed to her that includes the phrases "Ukraine is a country in Europe," "Russia decided to invade a smaller country called Ukraine," "It exists next to another country called Russia," "Russia is a bigger country," and "Russia is a powerful country."

The evidence does not include the phrase "So basically that's wrong." Therefore, the claim is partially supported.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that Kamala Harris made a statement about Ukraine and Russia, including the phrases in the claim. However, the evidence does not include the phrase "So basically that's wrong."

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is partially accurate. Kamala Harris did say, "Ukraine is a country in Europe. Russia decided to invade a smaller country called Ukraine. It exists next to another country called Russia. Russia is a bigger country. Russia is a powerful country," as evidenced by IMDb.com (Source). However, the claim also includes the phrase "So basically that's wrong," which is not found in the provided evidence.
