Evidence

Evidence from web_search

Al Jazeera (Source) reported on an Israeli ground offensive on the Jabalia refugee camp in northern Gaza in October 2024, mentioning tank deployment and casualties. The Guardian (Source) discussed the destruction of the Jabalia refugee camp by Israeli forces, including three offensives, with the third starting on October 5, 2024, and included satellite images and videos.

غزة - فلسطين

Wikipedia (Source) discusses the Siege of North Gaza, which took place from October 5, 2024, to January 19, 2025, involving the IDF and Hamas, including fighting in Jabalia and ambushes. The article mentions a Hamas ambush on October 10, 2024, which destroyed an IDF mechanized infantry company of 12 vehicles east of the Jabalia camp.

Evidence from `image_search`

The Guardian published an article on November 4, 2023, about the Israeli military operations in Gaza, including an image of Israeli tanks in Gaza (

). AP News published an image of a burning tank (

). Al Jazeera published an article on November 21, 2023, about Israeli tanks in Gaza City (

).

The provided sources do not contain information about an Israeli tank unit near Jabalia camp being ambushed by Hamas fighters in October 2024.

Elaboration

The evidence confirms that Israeli forces were involved in ground offensives in the Jabalia refugee camp in October 2024, and that Hamas and the IDF were engaged in fighting, including ambushes. The Wikipedia article specifically mentions a Hamas ambush on October 10, 2024, that destroyed an IDF mechanized infantry company east of the Jabalia camp. However, the evidence does not explicitly confirm that the image depicts the aftermath of this specific ambush.

The image search results show images of Israeli tanks in Gaza, including a burning tank, but do not directly link the image in the claim to a specific event.

Therefore, while the claim's general premise aligns with the documented events, the evidence is insufficient to verify that the image specifically depicts the aftermath of a Hamas ambush on an Israeli tank unit near Jabalia camp in October 2024. More information is needed to confirm the exact context of the image.

Evidence

Evidence from `reverse_search`

The reverse image search found the image in multiple sources. One source, 9jaflaver.com, published on October 7, 2023, shows the image in the context of the Hamas surprise attack on Israel, which led to Israel declaring a state of war. Another source, a Nairaland forum post from October 7, 2023, also discusses the Hamas attacks on Israel. A third source, a forum post from August 14, 2025, titled "Mujahideen News," includes the image and reports on an operation by Al-Qassam Brigades in Khan Yunis, where two Israeli Merkava tanks were destroyed.

Elaboration

The reverse image search reveals that the image has been used in multiple contexts. It was used in the context of the Hamas surprise attack on Israel in October 2023, and also in a forum post from August 2025, reporting on an operation by Al-Qassam Brigades in Khan Yunis. This suggests that the image's context is not definitively tied to the specific event described in the claim (October 2024 ambush near Jabalia).

The evidence does not confirm the claim.

Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

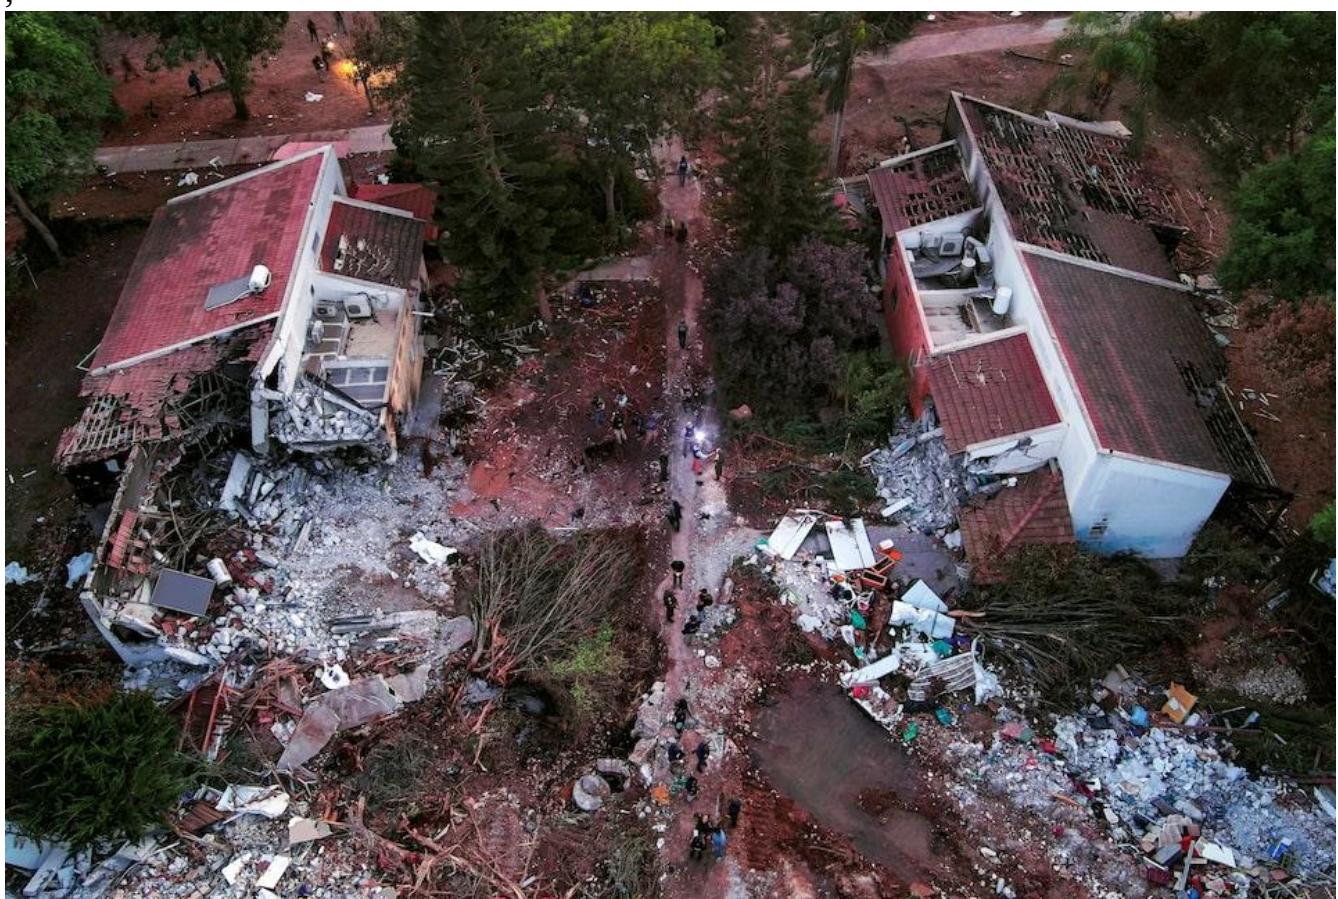

The Reuters article from October 4, 2024, presents images from the Israel-Hamas war, including scenes from Jabalia and Khan Younis, and mentions the October 7, 2023, attack by Hamas.

The CNN gallery, updated on February 1, 2024, includes images of Israeli military vehicles, including tanks, and the aftermath of attacks, including destroyed buildings and casualties, and also includes images of the Jabalia refugee camp.

Elaboration

The search results provide additional context about the conflict, including images of the war and the destruction in Jabalia. However, the evidence still does not directly link the image in the claim to a specific Hamas ambush on an Israeli tank unit near Jabalia camp in October 2024. The Reuters article mentions the October 7, 2023, attack by Hamas, but does not provide any information about the image in the claim.

The claim remains unverified.

Final Judgement

The evidence confirms that there was fighting in Jabalia in October 2024, including ambushes and tank deployments. However, the image's context is not definitively linked to the specific event described in the claim. The reverse image search shows the image being used in different contexts, including the 2023 Hamas attack. Therefore, the claim is not factually accurate.

false

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The claim is not supported by the evidence. While the provided sources confirm fighting in Jabalia in October 2024, including ambushes and tank deployments, the image's context cannot be definitively linked to the specific event described in the claim. Reverse image searches show the image being used in different contexts, including the 2023 Hamas attack. Therefore, the claim is false.
