Claim

Claim: "

This image shows Jet Blue Airlines' in-flight map where Israel's borders were inaccurate and the area was shown under the label 'Palestinian Territories'. The indicent occured in September 2024."

Actions

```
web_search("JetBlue in-flight map Israel Palestinian Territories") reverse_search(!image 30)
```

Evidence

Evidence from `web_search`

JetBlue displayed an in-flight map that labeled most of Israel as "Palestinian Territories" and did not include the Golan Heights. The incident occurred in September 2024, as reported by Ynetnews.com (https://www.ynetnews.com/travel/article/skawilphc) and The Jerusalem Post (https://www.jpost.com/diaspora/article-818656). The Jerusalem Post article, published on September 4, 2024, included the image

.

JetBlue blamed the map service provider for the error. The Times of Israel also reported on the incident, stating that the airline said the map had been provided by a third party company (https://www.timesofisrael.com/liveblog_entry/air-canada-blames-display-issue-after-in-flight-map-of-israel-relabeled-as-palestinian-territories/).

Elaboration

The evidence confirms the claim. JetBlue's in-flight map inaccurately labeled most of Israel as "Palestinian Territories." This incident occurred in September 2024, as reported by multiple news sources, including The Jerusalem Post (https://www.jpost.com/diaspora/article-818656). The image

Final Judgement

The claim is accurate. Multiple reliable sources confirm that JetBlue's in-flight map mislabeled Israel as "Palestinian Territories" in September 2024. The image provided in the claim is also present in the news reports about the incident.

```
true
```

Verdict: TRUE

Justification

JetBlue's in-flight map inaccurately labeled most of Israel as "Palestinian Territories" in September 2024, as reported by sources like The Jerusalem Post (https://www.jpost.com/diaspora/article-818656). The image in the claim is consistent with the news reports.