From Source: Content: The search result from Globes.co.il shows a crowded airport in Israel.

Elaboration

The image search results confirm that the image depicts a crowded airport in Israel. However, the provided evidence does not mention any attacks by Houthis or Israelis fleeing the airport.

Therefore, the claim cannot be verified based on the available evidence. Additional information is needed to confirm the context of the image, including the date and the reason for the crowd.

Evidence

Evidence from `image_search`

Al-Monitor reports on an Israeli strike on Houthi targets in Yemen, one day after a drone attack on Tel Aviv, with an image of a fire

. Al Jazeera published an article on July 21, 2024, discussing the US foreign policy failures against the Houthis, including an image of explosions

. The search results do not mention any attacks on the airport.

Elaboration

The evidence indicates that there were attacks and explosions related to the Houthis around the time frame mentioned in the claim. However, there is no evidence to support the claim that the image shows Israelis fleeing the airport after a Houthi attack.

Therefore, the claim is unverified.

Final Judgement

The image shows a crowded airport in Israel, but there is no evidence to support the claim that it depicts Israelis fleeing after a Houthi attack on July 19, 2024. The search results show attacks and explosions related to the Houthis, but not at the airport.

Verdict: FALSE

Justification

The image depicts a crowded airport in Israel, but there is no evidence to support the claim that it shows Israelis fleeing after a Houthi attack on July 19, 2024. While there were attacks and explosions related to the Houthis around that time, the search results do not mention any attacks on the airport. Therefore, the claim is unverified.
