The University at Buffalo (https://www.buffalo.edu/ai-data-science/news-events/news.host.html/content/shared/engineering/home/articles/media-mentions/2024-media-coverage/ai-generated-image-used-to-falsely-claim-netanyahu-hospitalized.detail.html) reports on an AI-generated image falsely claiming Benjamin Netanyahu was hospitalized, referencing an AFP Fact Check. The Times of Israel (https://www.timesofisrael.com/netanyahu-awake-recovering-after-successful-prostate-removal-surgery-pms-office/) states that Netanyahu underwent prostate removal surgery in December 2024 and was in the Knesset in November 2024.

AFP (https://cedmohub.eu/doctored-photo-does-not-show-israeli-pm-netanyahu-hospitalised-with-covid/) debunked a claim that a photo showed Netanyahu hospitalized with a mutated strain of coronavirus, stating the image was digitally altered.
